For Children and Pregnant/Nursing Women

Watch out for chipping and peeling paint

Test you or your child for lead if they:

- Are under 6 years old (Pregnant/Nursing Mothers included as well)
- Live in a home built before 1978
- Live in a home with recent repair to painted wood trim, walls or floors
- Have a playmate or sibling with lead in his or her blood
- If you are concerned for your child's health

Lead poisoning in kids is 100%
preventable!

Testing for lead is important!
Lead poisoning can cause serious health problems:

- Learning problems
- Behavioral problems
 - Slowed growth
 - Hearing problems
- Developmental problems

A blood test is the only way to find out if your child has lead poisoning.
